

What can I do now?

Disaster events are a common occurrence, and when we hear of the devastation we often feel a desire to serve the site we see on the news. However, there are many families waiting to return to their homes from events that occurred two to three years ago. These disasters turn into UMVIM response. Please consider responding to one of these locations ready to receive long-term recovery teams.

There are projects in West Virginia, West Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana. Our neighbors need you to be the hands, feet and heart of Jesus to provide works of service, hope, and healing.

Click on the link and you will find a link to a list of active Disaster Long-Term Recovery (LTR) sites throughout the USA, along with an interactive map of these sites. <http://www.scjumc.org/mission/disaster/>

Please consider an experience for your local church or district to come together and partner in this ministry.
