

Why Miracle Sunday Matters for the Whole Church

Gabriella lives in a rural community in Zimbabwe. A few years ago, she felt her life unraveling because of economic instability, limited opportunity, and uncertainty about her future.

Today she is studying theology – not for status or prestige – but to serve congregations that gather with extraordinary faith, but limited resources.

In Liberia, pastors preach beside cemeteries because there is no formal sanctuary – only a people hungry for hope.

Across parts of Romania, pastors lead worship with and for refugees displaced by war.

These leaders are called to be pastors just as surely as pastors here. Yet theological education is not equally accessible across our worldwide Church.

In the U.S., about 71% of clergy hold advanced theological degrees. Outside the U.S., fewer than 5% hold advanced theological degrees. Miracle Sunday is not about choosing global ministry over local needs. It is about recognizing we are one body.

When one part of the Church lacks access, the whole Church is affected.

On May 17, we will join thousands of congregations in strengthening theological education for generations to come.

Please pray about how you can best support the Miracle Sunday offering and make a difference in the lives of others.

Miracle
SUNDAY

East Ohio Conference
The United Methodist Church

Scan to support the
Miracle Sunday Offering.

Why Miracle Sunday Matters for the Whole Church

Gabriella lives in a rural community in Zimbabwe. A few years ago, she felt her life unraveling because of economic instability, limited opportunity, and uncertainty about her future.

Today she is studying theology – not for status or prestige – but to serve congregations that gather with extraordinary faith, but limited resources.

In Liberia, pastors preach beside cemeteries because there is no formal sanctuary – only a people hungry for hope.

Across parts of Romania, pastors lead worship with and for refugees displaced by war.

These leaders are called to be pastors just as surely as pastors here. Yet theological education is not equally accessible across our worldwide Church.

In the U.S., about 71% of clergy hold advanced theological degrees. Outside the U.S., fewer than 5% hold advanced theological degrees. Miracle Sunday is not about choosing global ministry over local needs. It is about recognizing we are one body.

When one part of the Church lacks access, the whole Church is affected.

On May 17, we will join thousands of congregations in strengthening theological education for generations to come.

Please pray about how you can best support the Miracle Sunday offering and make a difference in the lives of others.

Miracle
SUNDAY

East Ohio Conference
The United Methodist Church

Scan to support the
Miracle Sunday Offering.