The UNIVEX SRM12 is a high-performance countertop mixer designed for commercial kitchen environments. Its 12 quart capacity makes it ideal for a variety of applications, including mixing dough, batter, and other large batches of ingredients. UNIVEX, known for its commitment to quality and innovation, has engineered the SRM12 to provide consistent results in a fast-paced setting. Featuring a robust design, this mixer is tailored for restaurants, bakeries, and catering services where durability and efficiency are crucial. One of the key features of the SRM12 is its powerful 1 horsepower motor, which allows for effective mixing and kneading even with heavy mixtures. Additionally, it includes a tilt-back head for easy access to the bowl and attachments, facilitating efficient ingredient addition and cleaning. The variable speed control offers versatility for different mixing needs, ensuring that operators can achieve the desired texture and consistency with ease. With its sturdy construction and reliable performance, the UNIVEX SRM12 is an essential tool in any professional kitchen that values high-quality food preparation.
